NEWS AND VIEWS...

And What Have You

By BOB CRAIG

This country rides on red tape. A tidal wave of government red tape was generated by the ill-conceived environmental laws and their attendant boards, bureaus and agencies.

Impact statements are also necessary for most any government project. Included among these projects are Urban Development, Health, transportation, etc.

Occasionally an opportunity arises to bite back at these monsters and an opportunity did arise for the City of Midland. It seems that the Housing and Urban Development brass phoned the city dads of Midland asking for parking space for one of their vehicles at the Midland airport.

Thereupon, a blow was struck for liberty, as Midland replied:

"Reference is made to the request of Mr. J. C. Hays, Community Development Area Representative from your office, for a parking place at the Midland Regional Air Terminal for a U.S. Government vehicle to be used by your staff when they visit the West Texas area from time to time.

"We will of course be happy to process a proper application, but a simple request by telephone or letter just won't do at all. In order to justify as many public employees as possible and to make things as difficult as possible for anyone trying to do business with the City of Midland, we have adopted a few regulations and guidelines with which you must comply which are set out as follows:

"1. You must obtain from the U. S. Government Printing Office, or the National Archives, or the Library of Congress, or someplace, a supply of application form COM-1975. You must submit three executed and fourteen conformed copies of this application which we will then distribute to our Department of Aviation, Fire and Police Departments, the Public Works Department, the City Attorney's office and anyone else we can think of when they arrive.

"2. With the application submit the make and model of the proposed vehicle together with certified assurances that everyone connected with the manufacture, servicing and operation of same were paid according to a wage scale that complies with the requirements of the Davis-Bacon Act.

"3. Submit a genealogical table for everyone who will operate said vehicle so that we can ascertain that there will be a precisely exact equal percentage of whites, blacks and other minorities, as well as women and the elderly.

"4. Submit certified assurances that this plan has been discussed at length with the EEOC and submit that commission's certification

Christmas Tree Safety Tips

A dry, brittle Christmas tree can go up in flames in a matter of seconds. With a few precautions and a little common sense, it's possible to keep a tree fresh and avoid fire hazards.

"First of all," says Kirby Clayton, county Agent for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, "pick a tree that's fresh. The needles should be green and flexible and shouldn't fall off at the touch. "Before setting the tree up, make a fresh cut diagonally across the trunk base to facilitate the tree's water uptake. Then put the tree in a sturdy water filled stand and

locate it away from fireplaces, stoves, radiators or other sources of heat," he cautions.

Replace the evaporated

water daily in the tree stand. Before decorating the tree, check the lights and other electrical decorations for burned out bulbs and frayed, cracked or worn insulation. Replace any damaged items and don't overload electrical circuits.

Clayton advises using nonflammable ornaments on the tree and throughout the house. Never use lighted candles on a tree and don't hang metal foil tinsel directly over wires or tree lights.

Remember to disconnect tree lights before leaving the house or going to bed.

Dispose of the tree as soon as possible after the holidays, adds Clayton.

FROM THE FILES . . .

FIFTY YEARS AGO
(November 27, 1925)

Friday evening at the high school auditorium, the High School Choral Club, assisted by pupils from the Expression Department and the High School Male Quartet, rendered a delightful program, which was given under the direction of Miss Wilma Knight and Mrs. C. C. Swanson. Every number was well received and showed careful work on the part of both instructor and pupil.

Pursuant to an invitation from the Texas Tax Club, the Editor of the Herald and incidentally a member of the Texas House of Representatives, left last Saturday night for Austin to participate in deliberations, unofficially, with the Club relative to the attempt of the Texas Tax Club to bring pressure to bear on the national Congress to repeal the Federal Inheritance Tax Law. This meeting was held Monday morning in the Senate Chamber. About one hundred Representatives and Senators were present and listened to the discussions of the reason why the Federal Inheritance Tax should be repealed.

(November 25, 1955)

Rev. Donald Wellman, pastor of the Hamlin Church of the Nazarene, will be the principal speaker at the union Thanksgiving service being sponsored by members of the Hamlin Ministerial Alliance Wednesday evening at the First Methodist Church. His topic will be "Praise, the Biblical Basis for Thanksgiving." The union service will be conducted in lieu of regular prayer services at the city's churches, and people of all faiths are invited to attend and participate in the services.

Losses in the recent fire at the Ritz Theater, owned by Mrs. B. S. Ferguson, have totaled more than was first believed according to the adjustments of insurance companies on the losses it was revealed this week by City Fire Marshal T. W. (Mickey) McGuire. Adjusted losses were $10,600 on the theater, $908 on Mrs. E. M. Wilson's building and $1,941.20 on the Safeway building owned by George Metcalf.

Theft of spare tires and hub caps from automobiles and trucks in the Hamlin community have been reported to Hamlin police, according to Mayor Willard Jones. No arrest had been made by mid-week, but several leads have indicated that teen-age boys are involved in the theft, officers believe. Police Chief Buddy Watson asks the cooperation of citizens in the police department's efforts to arrest the perpetrators of the thievery.

TEN YEARS AGO
(November 24, 1965)

Revonna Kay Robertson was first place winner in the Jones County eliminations for the National Make-it-with-wool contest held here Monday afternoon. Second place went to Glenda Hudspeth and third place went to a girls from Avoca. The contestants were from Avoca, Hamlin and Hawley. The winners will go to the District I contest at Texas Tech on Dec. 4. Mrs. Joe Wayne Carter served as county chairman and judges were Mrs. Norvelle Kennedy, homemaking teacher from Rotan, and Mrs. Ed Boaz from Anson. Mrs. James E. Simmons has worked the contestants.

produced by coal because this might require digging a hole in the ground and that is simply not acceptable in the United States:

"(c) Operate the car by solar energy because this is the most abundant source of energy available and it is entirely too practical to justify any expenditure for research and development; or

"(d) Operate the car with nuclear energy because it is available.

"The use of wind power is acceptable.

"8. Submit a certificate from the Attorney General of the United States that all of the certifiers of the above assurances are duly and legally authorized by Congress to make such certificates and that Mr. Hays is duly and legally authorized by Congress and the President to make this application, and that the United States of America is a duly organized and legally existing independent nation with full right, power and authority to operate automobiles in the first place.

"Upon receipt of the foregoing, rest assured that the application will be promptly referred to someone for approval. We cannot state at this time who that someone will be because whatever department he or she is in will be undergoing a process of reorganization and the delegation of authority of approval will change from day to day and you will just have to take pot luck as to who has authority to approve your application, if anyone."

The letter is signed, "Very truly yours, Ernest Angelo Jr., Mayor." But there is a P.S. — "Of course we will be delighted to authorize a place for your vehicle in the new employees' parking lot that will soon be constructed, or adjacent to the control tower."

The letter not only went to HUD, but copies were mailed to President Gerald Ford, Sen. John Tower, Sen. Lloyd Bentsen Jr., Rep. George Mahon, members of the Midland City Council, J.M. Nuessle, city attorney; J. W. McCullough, city secretary; and the Midland Reporter-Telegram.

Neinda Philosopher Comes Up With Plan To Keep All Cities From Operating With A Deficit

Editor's note: The Neinda Philosopher on his Johnson grass farm on Route One discusses several things this week, we think.

Dear editor:

While it's unarguably true that this country was founded 200 years ago by the best brains it had, it doesn't follow that the best brains have continued to operate it.

I mean, you don't see anybody going around saying: We hold these truths to be self-evident, that every town selects its smartest man for mayor, that every county selects its smartest man for judge, that the Governor is always the smartest man the state's got, that Congress is the nation's foremost brain bank, and things like that.

Therefore it's incumbent on the country's citizens occasionally to make suggestions to its leaders. For example, although I wouldn't bail out New York unless the Gallup poll showed I should, take the matter of that city's being on the brink of bankruptcy. There's no excuse for it, if we'd follow the system used in England. According to a television documentary I saw the other night British cities aren't in the shape New York is because large portions of their expenses are borne by the British government, such as large parts of police costs, welfare, libraries, firemen, etc.

So you see, British cities aren't in the red, only the British government is.

That's the way we should handle it over here. There's no use having cities all over the country operating in the red; let's put all the deficits in one basket, namely Washington, which has had years of experience in that line of work and thinks nothing of it.

It's like my theory about the railroads. There's no use having five or six bankrupt railroads. Merge them all one and we can then announce we've reduced railroad bankruptcy by 500 per cent.

The theory can be used in all directions. Too many college drop-outs? Transfer them to one central college, let them drop out there, and keep every other college's record clean. Too much crime in the streets? Abolish the streets. Kids can't read? Turn on the television set. Can't add and subtract? Teach them to stop losing their pocket calculators.

This letter wound up in a different direction from the one it started with, but when I got up to Congress and brains I figured I'd better not go any further.

Yours faithfully,
J.A.

Visiting Mrs. Ina L. Parker over the Thanksgiving holidays were her daughter,

Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Ivey of Hobbs, N. Mex. and her granddaughter, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Champagne of Danbury.

Thanksgiving guests of Mr. and Mrs. Bill Fomby, James and Carla at their lake home at Lake Nasworthy, San Angelo, were Mr. and Mrs. Elbert Fomby, Mrs. Ross Fomby, Mr. and Mrs. Jay Waggoner, all of Hamlin, Mrs. Raymond Rowell of Anson, and Dr. and Mrs. Mac Fullerton, Kathy and Teresa of Wichita Falls.

Mr. and Mrs. Bobby Self and Todd of Alice visited in the home of their parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. R. Daniell in Hamlin and Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Self of McCaulley, during Thanksgiving.

that requirement 3 above has been fully complied with.

"5. Submit certified assurance that all operators of said vehicle and any filling station personnel that service same will be equipped with steel toed boots, safety goggles and crash helmets and that the vehicle will be equipped with at least safety belts and an air bag to show compliance with the Occupational Safety and Health Act.

"6. Submit an Environmental Impact Statement. You will probably want to hire an expensive consultant for this item, as you probably have no one on your staff with the expertise to prepare it. The statement should show the number of times the vehicle will be operated, times of day, the name of the operator of the vehicle, the number of other vehicles that might be coming into or leaving the parking lot at the same time, as well as the number and type of aircraft that might be landing or taking off at the airport; at the same time and an exact conclusion as to the effect this will have on the atmosphere in West Texas.

"7. In order to obtain approval of a negative Environmental Impact Statement, you will not be able to:

"(a) Operate the car on gasoline produced from domestic oil because that would require that someone discover it, process it and deliver it and it is possible that some private person, firm or corporation might realize a profit as a result of such activities and this simply won't do. However, if the gasoline is produced from foreign oil, this will be acceptable and we don't care what grade it is or how much profit the foreign producers make, nor will we even concern ourselves about this;

Soil Testing Can Boost Profits

A regular program of soil testing can make your farm or ranch a more efficient and profitable operation, says Kirby Clayton, county agent for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

"Soil Test in '75, Profit in '76" is the theme of a nation wide effort just launched by the Extension Service, U.S. Department of Agriculture, and the Fertilizer Institute to encourage soil testing this fall.

A soil test is an analysis of soil that measures nutrient levels, acidity and the amount of soluble salts. It can help a farmer determine the nutrient level of the soil and what levels of fertilizer he needs to use next year, explains the county agent.

"Both under fertilizing and over fertilizing can damage crops and reduce profits," Clayton points out. "A complete record of soil tests over the years makes determining soil nutrient needs much easier. A producer can look at test results and tell at a glance whether he needs to maintain the present level of fertilization, add fertilizer or taper off."

The county agent recommends having soil tested in the fall because soil testing labs are much busier in the spring so it takes longer to get test results. The sooner the results come back, the earlier a farmer or rancher can make decisions about how much fertilizer he will need.

"Test soil every two to four years unless you are using high rates of fertilizer or manure. If so, have soil tested yearly," advises Clayton.

In 1973 2.1 million soil samples were tested in the United States, 1.7 million of which were from crop, farm and pastureland. For every

AUSTIN — State health programs for the needy may have to be cut back after January 1 unless the State Welfare budget can be altered.

While the department may have $100 million or more in unspent state and federal funds for 1976-77, the money apparently cannot be transferred from other programs to health services.

Welfare Commissioner Raymond Vowell said a health program deficit in fiscal 1977 may run as high as $76 million.

320 acres of crop and pastureland in the U.S., only one soil sample was taken.

"So take advantage of soil testing services," says Clayton. Mailing cartons and information sheets to accompany soil samples are available at the county Extension office.

Welfare officials said they can operate within the overall appropriations available if they can move funds from program to program. However, the legislature has prohibited such transfers.

The State Board of Public Welfare authorized staff sessions with Gov. Dolph Briscoe and the Legislative Budget Board to seek transfer power.

The alternative, according to Welfare Budget Analyst Wes Hjernevik, is reducing or discontinuing nearly all health services for the aged, blind, disabled and other welfare recipients.

Most of the shortage, Hjernevik said, is due to spiralling medical care costs.

Welfare officials are contemplating reducing hospital stay maximums from 30 to 15 days, discontinuing intermediate care nursing home payments, limiting drug prescriptions to two per month and cutting off payments for glasses, dentures and hearing aids.

Control to State

Texas Air Control Board said the federal government is giving the state management of air sampling programs January 1.

The Board will collect for federal study air samples in 14 places — a job now done by the Environmental Protection Agency.

Amarillo, Beaumont, Corpus Christi, Dallas, El Paso, Fort Worth, Houston, Lubbock, Matagorda County, Pasadena, Tom Green County, Austin, San Antonio and Wichita Falls are sampled areas. City workers will be called on to collect information. The Air Control Board samples air at 100 sites in a state program started seven years ago.

AG Opinions

Waste disposal districts have authority to issue bonds for acquisition, construction and repair of disposal systems subject to review by the attorney general, Atty. Gen. John Hill concluded.

In other recent opinions,

Hill said:

A city may grant automatic rate adjustments to a utility.

Contributions to pay expenses of the Southern Governors Conference in Texas do not have to be reported as campaign or lobby expenditures.

A state university cannot use either appropriated or auxiliary enterprise funds to purchase liability insurance for its administrative officers and regents.

The legislature may constitutionally vest control of the Texas School for the Blind in five members of the State Board of Education.

Pesticide Rules Approved; EPA to Regulate Applicators

AUSTIN—At a hearing held in Austin November 20, representatives of farmers and ranchers, chemical companies and commercial pesticide applicators approved the proposed regulations of the Texas Pesticide Control Act.

Meanwhile, Texas is still waiting for word from Washington, D.C. to learn what pesticides will be covered by recent Environmental Protection Agency (EPA) regulations on pesticide applicators, Agriculture Commissioner John C. White said.

The State Legislature passed the Texas Pesticide

Control Act which will bring the state into conformity with Federal regulations as they are stated now. But the EPA has not approved the state plan, according to Commissioner White.

The state law requires all commercial applicators to be certified, but exempts farmers. The Federal law, however, requires all persons supervising applications of certain "restricted use" pesticides to be certified.

White stressed that according to Federal regulations, only one certified applicator per farm will be required, that is, the person who will directly supervise applications.

ONE OF 26 IN STATE—
Local School Selected for Adult Education Program

Hamlin has been selected as one of 26 schools to participate in a pilot program of continuing education through extending current adult education and expanding community education.

The primary purpose of the program is to use the present school facilities for the benefit of all in the community.

Mrs. Warren Sharp was named coordinator of the local program and attended a three-day workshop in preparation for implementing the local program.

The community school, according to the Texas Education Agency, is one which opens its doors to the full community, bringing adults and even some students back into the classroom and laboratory after the regular academic day is over. The community school, in other words, offers a full range of social, educational, and recreational services designed to meet the needs of all the people it serves.

Mrs. Sharp said that key words of the new program are "want" and "need." A survey will be made, she said, to determine the wants and needs of the people. A broad range of opportunities for community education can be put into effect, if the people are interested, she noted. The scope of educational, social and recreational activities may vary from sessions for expectant mothers to planned activities for senior citizens.

Public seminars and short courses on public problems which may range from narcotics addiction to consumer information may bring both professional and highly skilled lay persons into the community school as volunteers.

The community school was defined by the State Board of Education in April, 1972, as "A school which focuses on total community population and attempts to meet the educational needs of the community and works in full concert with other agencies and community groups to fulfill social, economic and environmental needs." This will be a non-profit program and nominal fees will be charged to defray costs. At present there is a slimnastics course underway that uses school facilities. Participants pay a fee for these sessions.

NEWS AND VIEWS...

And What Have You

By BOB CRAIG

This country rides on red tape. A tidal wave of government red tape was generated by the ill-conceived environmental laws and their attendant boards, bureaus and agencies.

Impact statements are also necessary for most any government project. Included among these projects are Urban Development, Health, transportation, etc.

Occasionally an opportunity arises to bite back at these monsters and an opportunity did arise for the City of Midland. It seems that the Housing and Urban Development brass phoned the city dads of Midland asking for parking space for one of their vehicles at the Midland airport.

Thereupon, a blow was struck for liberty, as Midland replied:

"Reference is made to the request of Mr. J. C. Hays, Community Development Area Representative from your office, for a parking place at the Midland Regional Air Terminal for a U.S. Government vehicle to be used by your staff when they visit the West Texas area from time to time.

"We will of course be happy to process a proper application, but a simple request by telephone or letter just won't do at all. In order to justify as many public employees as possible and to make things as difficult as possible for anyone trying to do business with the City of Midland, we have adopted a few regulations and guidelines with which you must comply which are set out as follows:

"1. You must obtain from the U. S. Government Printing Office, or the National Archives, or the Library of Congress, or someplace, a supply of application form COM-1975. You must submit three executed and fourteen conformed copies of this application which we will then distribute to our Department of Aviation, Fire and Police Departments, the Public Works Department, the City Attorney's office and anyone else we can think of when they arrive.

"2. With the application submit the make and model of the proposed vehicle together with certified assurances that everyone connected with the manufacture, servicing and operation of same were paid according to a wage scale that complies with the requirements of the Davis-Bacon Act.

"3. Submit a genealogical table for everyone who will operate said vehicle so that we can ascertain that there will be a precisely exact equal percentage of whites, blacks and other minorities, as well as women and the elderly.

"4. Submit certified assurances that this plan has been discussed at length with the EEOC and submit that commission's certification

Christmas Tree Safety Tips

A dry, brittle Christmas tree can go up in flames in a matter of seconds. With a few precautions and a little common sense, it's possible to keep a tree fresh and avoid fire hazards.

"First of all," says Kirby Clayton, county Agent for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, "pick a tree that's fresh. The needles should be green and flexible and

locate it away from fireplaces, stoves, radiators or other sources of heat," he cautions.

Replace the evaporated

water daily in the tree stand. Before decorating the tree, check the lights and other electrical decorations for burned out bulbs and drayed, cracked or worn insulation. Replace any damaged items and don't overload electrical circuits.

Clayton advises using nonflammable ornaments on the tree and throughout the house. Never use lighted candles on a tree and don't hang metal foil tinsel directly over wires or tree lights.

Remember to disconnect tree lights before leaving the house or going to bed.

Dispose of the tree as soon as possible after the holidays, adds Clayton.

Adjusted losses were $10,600 on theater, $908 on Mrs. E. M. Wilson's building and $1,941.20 on the Safeway building owned by George Metcalfe.
Theft of spare tires and hub caps from automobiles and trucks in the Hamlin community have been reported to Hamlin police, according to Mayor Willard Jones. No arrest had been made by mid-week, but several leads have indicated that teen-age boys are involved in the theft, officers believe. Police Chief Buddy Watson asks the cooperation of citizens in the police department's efforts to arrest the perpetrators of the thievery.

Neinda Philosopher Comes Up With Plan To Keep All Cities From Operating With A Deficit

Editor's note: The Neinda Philosopher on his Johnson grass farm on Route One discusses several things this week, we think.
Dear editor:
While it's unarguably true that this country was founded 200 years ago by the best brains it had, it doesn't follow that the best brains have continued to operate it.
I mean, you don't see anybody going around saying: We hold these truths to be self-evident, that every town selects its smartest man for mayor, that every county selects its smartest man for judge, that the Governor is always the smartest man the state's got, that Congress is the nation's foremost brain bank, and things like that.

Therefore it's incumbent on the country's citizens occasionally to make suggestions to its leaders. For example, although I wouldn't bail out New York unless the Gallup poll showed I should, take the matter of that city's being on the brink of bankruptcy. There's no excuse for it, if we'd follow the system used in England. According to a television documentary I saw the other night British cities aren't in the shape New York is because large portions of their expenses are borne by the British government, such as large parts of police costs, welfare, libraries, firemen, etc.

So you see, British cities aren't in the red, only the British government is.
That's the way we should handle it over here. There's no use having cities all over the country operating in the red; let's put all the deficits in one basket, namely Washington, which has had years of experience in that line of work and thinks nothing of it.
It's like my theory about the railroads. There's no use having five or six bankrupt railroads. Merge them all one and we can then announce we've reduced railroad bankruptcy by 500 per cent.

The theory can be used in all directions. Too many college drop-outs? Transfer them to one central college, let them drop out there, and keep every other college's record clean. Too much crime in the streets? Abolish the streets. Kids can't read? Turn on the television set. Can't add and subtract? Teach them to stop losing their pocket calculators.
This letter wound up in a different direction from the one it started with, but when I got up to Congress and brains I figured I'd better not go any further.
Yours faithfully,
J.A.

Soil Testing Can Boost Profits

A regular program of soil testing can make your farm or ranch a more efficient and profitable operation, says Kirby Clayton, county agent for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

"Soil Test in '75, Profit in '76" is the theme of a nation wide effort just launched by the Extension Service, U.S. Department of Agriculture, and the Fertilizer Institute to encourage soil testing this fall.

A soil test is an analysis of soil that measures nutrient levels, acidity and the amount of soluble salts. It can help a farmer determine the nutrient level of the soil and what levels of fertilizer he needs to use next year, explains the county agent.

"Both under fertilizing and over fertilizing can damage crops and reduce profits," Clayton points out. "A complete record of soil tests over the years makes determining soil nutrient needs much easier. A producer can look at test results and tell at a glance whether he needs to maintain the present level of fertilization, add fertilizer or taper off."

The county agent recommends having soil tested in the fall because soil testing labs are much busier in the spring so it takes longer to get test results. The sooner the results come back, the earlier a farmer or rancher can make decisions about how much fertilizer he will need.

"Test soil every two to four years unless you are using high rates of fertilizer or manure. If so, have soil tested yearly," advises Clayton.

In 1973 2.1 million soil samples were tested in the United States, 1.7 million of which were from crop, farm and pastureland. For every

AUSTIN — State health programs for the needy may have to be cut back after January 1 unless the State Welfare budget can be altered.

While the department may have $100 million or more in unspent state and federal funds for 1976-77, the money apparently cannot be transferred from other programs to health services.

Welfare Commissioner Raymond Vowell said a health program deficit in fiscal 1977 may run as high as $76 million.

320 acres of crop and pastureland in the U.S., only one soil sample was taken.

"So take advantage of soil testing services," says Clayton. Mailing cartons and information sheets to accompany soil samples are available at the county Extension office.

intermediate care nursing home payments, limiting drug prescriptions to two per month and cutting off payments for glasses, dentures and hearing aids.

Control to State

Texas Air Control Board said the federal government is giving the state management of air sampling programs January 1.

The Board will collect for federal study air samples in 14 places — a job now done by the Environmental Protection Agency.

Amarillo, Beaumont, Corpus Christi, Dallas, El Paso, Fort Worth, Houston, Lubbock, Matagorda County, Pasadena, Tom Green County, Austin, San Antonio and Wichita Falls are sampled areas. City workers will be called on to collect information. The Air Control Board samples air at 100 sites in a state program started seven years ago.

AG Opinions

Waste disposal districts have authority to issue bonds for acquisition, construction and repair of disposal systems subject to review by the attorney general, Atty. Gen. John Hill concluded.

In other recent opinions,

Hill said:

A city may grant automatic rate adjustments to a utility.

Contributions to pay expenses of the Southern Governors Conference in Texas do not have to be reported as campaign or lobby expenditures.

A state university cannot use either appropriated or auxiliary enterprise funds to purchase liability insurance for its administrative officers and regents.

The legislature may constitutionally vest control of the Texas School for the Blind in five members of the State Board of Education.

DELIVER FOOD FOR THANKSGIVING—Mrs Edith Carter, left, Young Homemakers chapter advisor, and Mrs. Chris Pena, migrant worker in the Hamlin Independent School District, deliver food to a needy migrant family on Wednesday before Thanksgiving. Each member contributed to the box of food and the turkey was purchased with chapter funds. The large box of food included cans of fruit, vegetables, juices, a cake mix and a turkey. This is only one of the many projects in community service that the YHT chapter does each year.

Graveside Rites Held Wednesday For Mrs. Hill, 48

Graveside rites were held here Wednesday, Nov. 26, for Mrs. Verna Mae Colwell Hill, 48, of Fort Worth, a native of Hamlin. She died Monday, Nov. 24, at 2:30 a.m. shortly after entering a Fort Worth hospital after suffering a massive hemorrhage.

She was born here Nov. 11, 1927, daughter of the late Mr. B. B. Colwell, and Mrs. Colwell. She graduated from Hamlin High School in 1945 and from Texas Women's University in Denton in 1949.

She married James J. Hill Aug. 29, 1949. He is employed by a Fort Worth insurance firm.

Mrs. Hill was supervisor in the state welfare office in Fort Worth and a member of Arlington Heights Christian Church. Services were held Wednesday, Nov. 26, in a Fort Worth funeral chapel. Graveside rites in Hamlin East Cemetery at 3 p.m. were held with David Giddings, minister of the Hamlin Church of Christ, assisting. Survivors include her husband, two sons, James Michael of Abilene and Richard Douglass of the home; and her mother, Mrs. Colwell, 39 Southwest Fourth. Her father preceded her in death Dec. 16, 1955.

Local School Selected for Adult Education Program

Hamlin has been selected as one of 26 schools to participate in a pilot program of continuing education through extending current adult education and expanding community education.

The primary purpose of the program is to use the present school facilities for the benefit of all in the community.

Mrs. Warren Sharp was named coordinator of the local program and attended a three-day workshop in preparation for implementing the local program.

The community school, according to the Texas Education Agency, is one which opens its doors to the full community, bringing adults and even some students back into the classroom and laboratory after the regular academic day is over. The community school, in other words, offers a full range of social, educational, and recreational services designed to meet the needs of all the people it serves.

Mrs. Sharp said that key words of the new program are "want" and "need." A survey will be made, she said, to determine the wants and needs of the people. A broad range of opportunities for community education can be put into effect, if the people are interested, she noted. The scope of educational, social and recreational activities may vary from sessions for expectant mothers to planned activities for senior citizens.

Public seminars and short courses on public problems which may range from narcotics addiction to consumer information may bring both professional and highly skilled lay persons into the community school as volunteers.

The community school was defined by the State Board of Education in April, 1972, as "A school which focuses on total community population and attempts to meet the educational needs of the community and works in full concert with other agencies and community groups to fulfill social, economic and environmental needs."

This will be a non-profit program and nominal fees will be charged to defray costs.

At present there is a slimastics course underway that uses school facilities. Participants pay a fee for these sessions.

Carrillo Sentenced

District Judge O. P. Carrillo has been sentenced to five years imprisonment, five years probation and a $22,000 fine for filing false income tax returns.

Carrillo still faces impeachment trial by the Senate (now scheduled to begin January 5) and a removal proceeding before the Texas Judicial Qualifications Commission.

An attorney for Carrillo and his brother, Duval County Commissioner Ramiro Carrillo, also sentenced on an income tax violation, said the conviction will be appealed.

The State Democratic Executive Committee is scheduled to hold one of its longest meetings yet in Fort Worth December 8 to consider major party rules changes and a variety of other matters.

Texas has been voted top state for beautification work in the Keep America Beautiful competition.
